Website Technical & Performance Findings

Critical Website Issues: Hindering Performance & Visibility

Two Websites, One Problem

Two competing official websites - called domain cannibalization - severely dilute search engine authority and confuse visitors. This is the single most critical issue.

Major Mobile Usability Problems

Broken links, content overflow, and layout shifts create a frustrating mobile experience for over 50% of visitors.

Extensive SEO Deficiencies

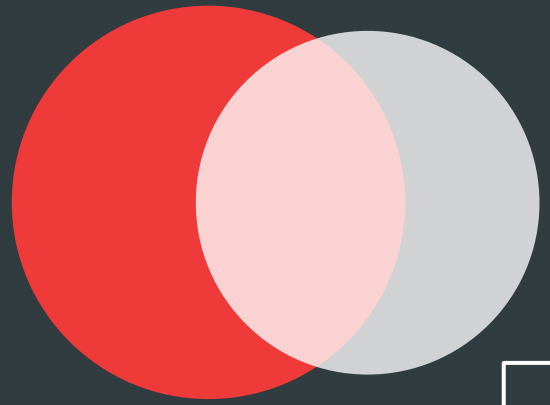

Missing meta descriptions on 70% of pages, thin content, and technical SEO errors limit organic search visibility.

Critically Slow Loading Times

The website fails Google's Core Web Vitals assessment, with a mobile LCP of 7.5 seconds (Recommendation: under 2.5s).

Widespread Accessibility Barriers

Missing alt text, poor contrast, and broken links exclude users with disabilities and harm SEO.

Two Websites, One Problem

Two official tourism websites

TheKingdomOfTonga.com and TongaTourism.travel are competing for the same keywords, diluting search engine authority

This creates a confusing and inconsistent user experience, potentially leading visitors to outdated information

- Directly impacts search rankings and organic traffic
- Lower search rankings for key tourism terms
- Lost organic traffic and potential bookings
- Wasted resources maintaining two websites

Website Performance

The website fails Google's Core Web Vitals assessment, indicating a poor user experience

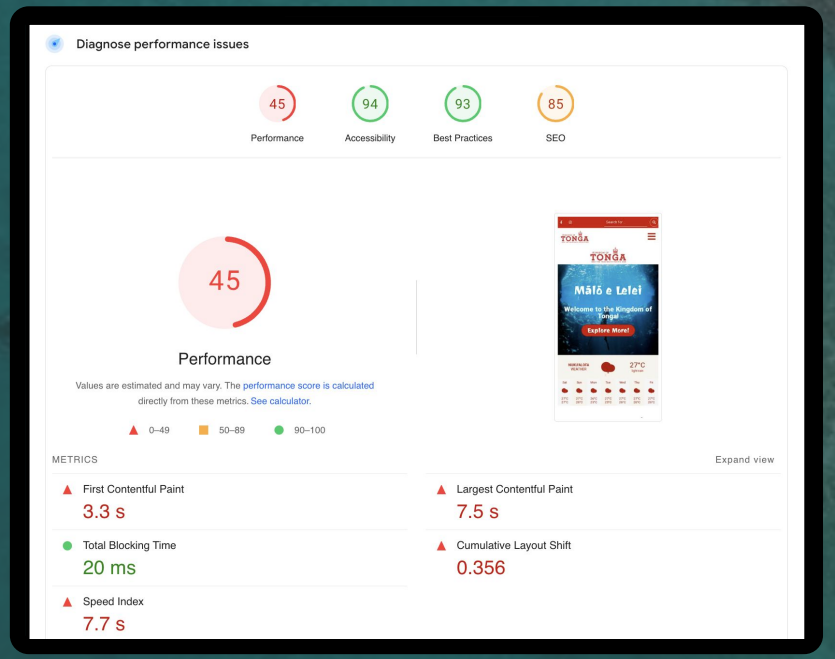

Critically slow loading times, especially on mobile (LCP of 7.5 seconds vs. recommended 2.5 seconds).
LCP = when page's main content has loaded

High bounce rates (visitors leaving after just visiting one page) a likely consequence

Over 50% of mobile users abandon websites that take longer than 3 seconds to load

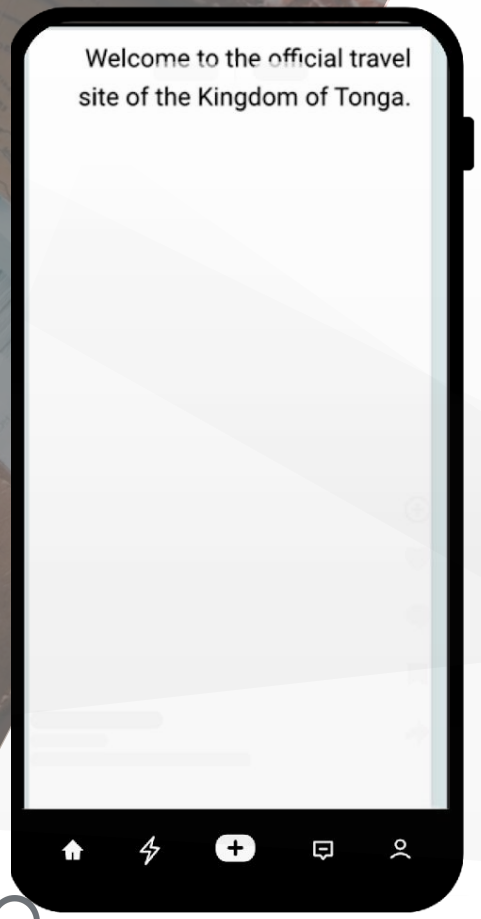

Slow loading times negatively impact search engine rankings

The Google Core Web Vitals Assessment

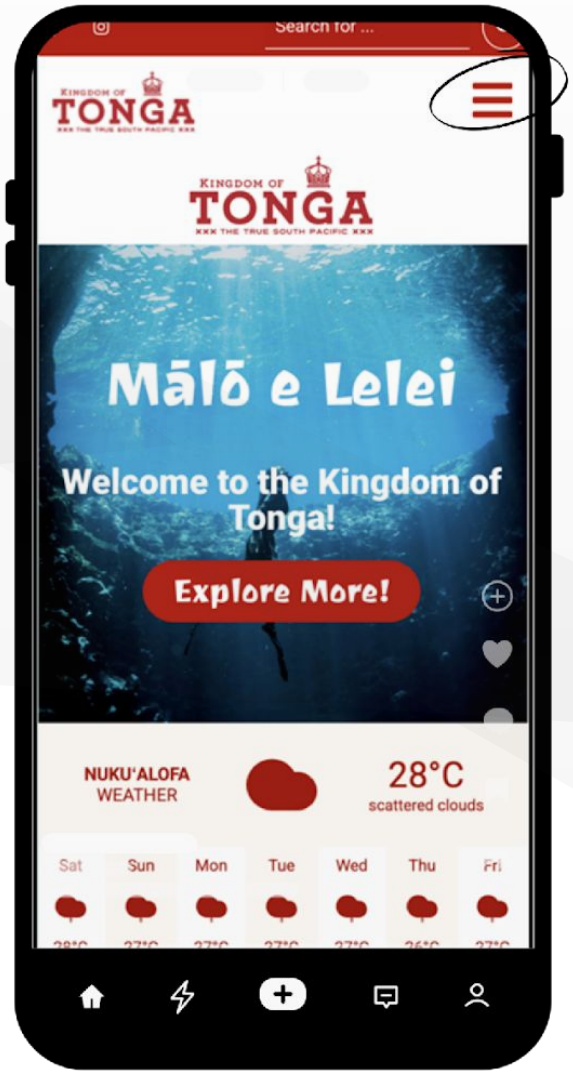

Mobile Experience

- Over 50% of Tonga's website traffic comes from mobile devices
- The website suffers from major mobile usability issues, making it difficult to navigate and access information
- This leads to a poor user experience

The menu bar, circled here, is designed to open on mobile, but it does not, making the rest of the site inaccessible

Accessibility Barriers

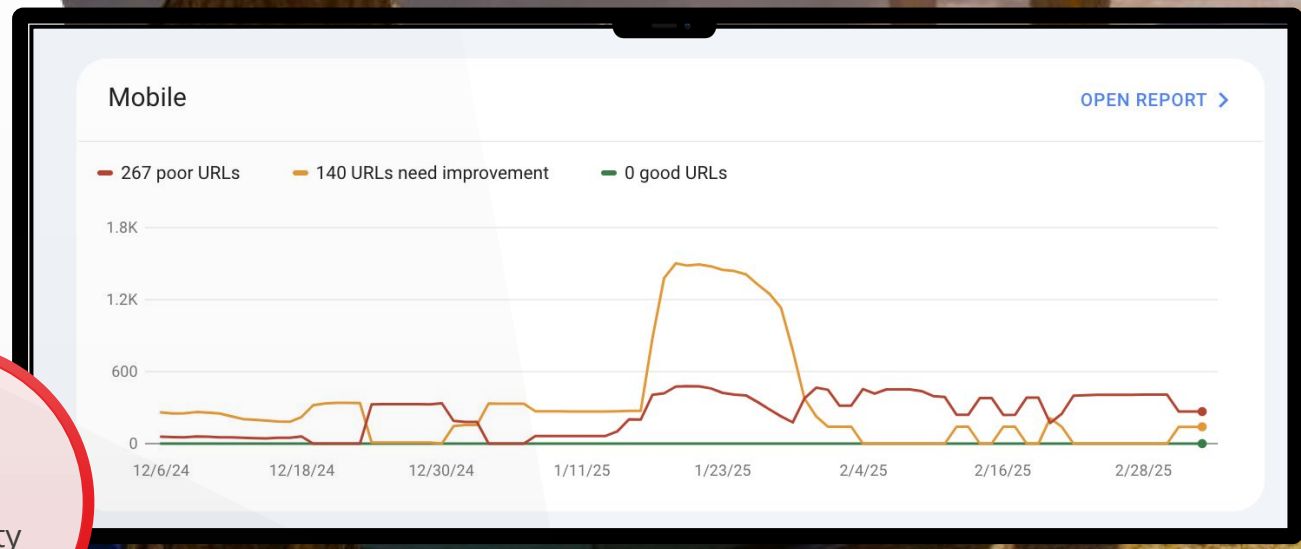

The website has significant accessibility issues, including empty links, missing alt text, and poor contrast

These barriers exclude visitors with disabilities (approximately 15% of the global population)

This creates legal risks and damages Tonga's reputation as an inclusive destination

SEO & Content

- Extensive SEO deficiencies (missing meta descriptions, thin content, technical issues) limit organic search visibility
- The website has very low click through rate (CTR) and is performing worse than it should
- The website also is far behind competitors - Fiji, Tahiti, Samoa in content

Country	Clicks	Impressions	CTR
United States	6560	330751	2%
New Zealand	10327	253141	4.1%
Tonga	8086	179576	4.5%
Australia	8135	178248	4.6%
India	337	80327	0.4%
United Kingdom	1065	43388	2.5%
Brazil	82	35600	0.2%
Canada	662	27480	2.4%
Fiji	928	22214	4.2%
Indonesia	411	21909	1.9%

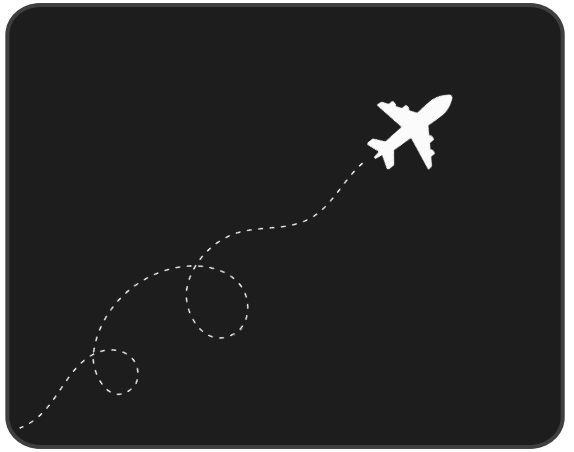

Impressions are the number of times the site has shown up for users, vs the number of times they've clicked. Very low performance for US and UK.

Website Traffic Analysis

Notable Traffic Growth

Active users increased by 107% year-over-year (March 2023 - March 2025), driven by both new and returning visitors. This is likely due to the website's recent launch and initial indexing by search engines.

Declining Engagement

Despite traffic growth, average engagement time decreased by 12.65%, and engagement rate remains low. Visitors are finding the site, but not staying.

Organic Search Opportunity

Organic search accounts for over 80% of traffic. Yet despite this traffic, TourismTonga.travel is not taking full advantage of the search because the previous site, TheKingdomOfTonga.com continues to steal away 1000s of visits a month.

Traffic Analysis - Growth & Engagement

Website traffic has increased significantly year-over-year, driven by both new and returning visitors.

However, average engagement time has decreased, indicating a problem with retaining visitor interest.

Organic search is the dominant traffic source

Given that the old TheKingdomOfTonga.com still received thousands of visits a month, the traffic for TongaTourism.travel should be much higher

Creates a poor first impression and damages the destination's brand image

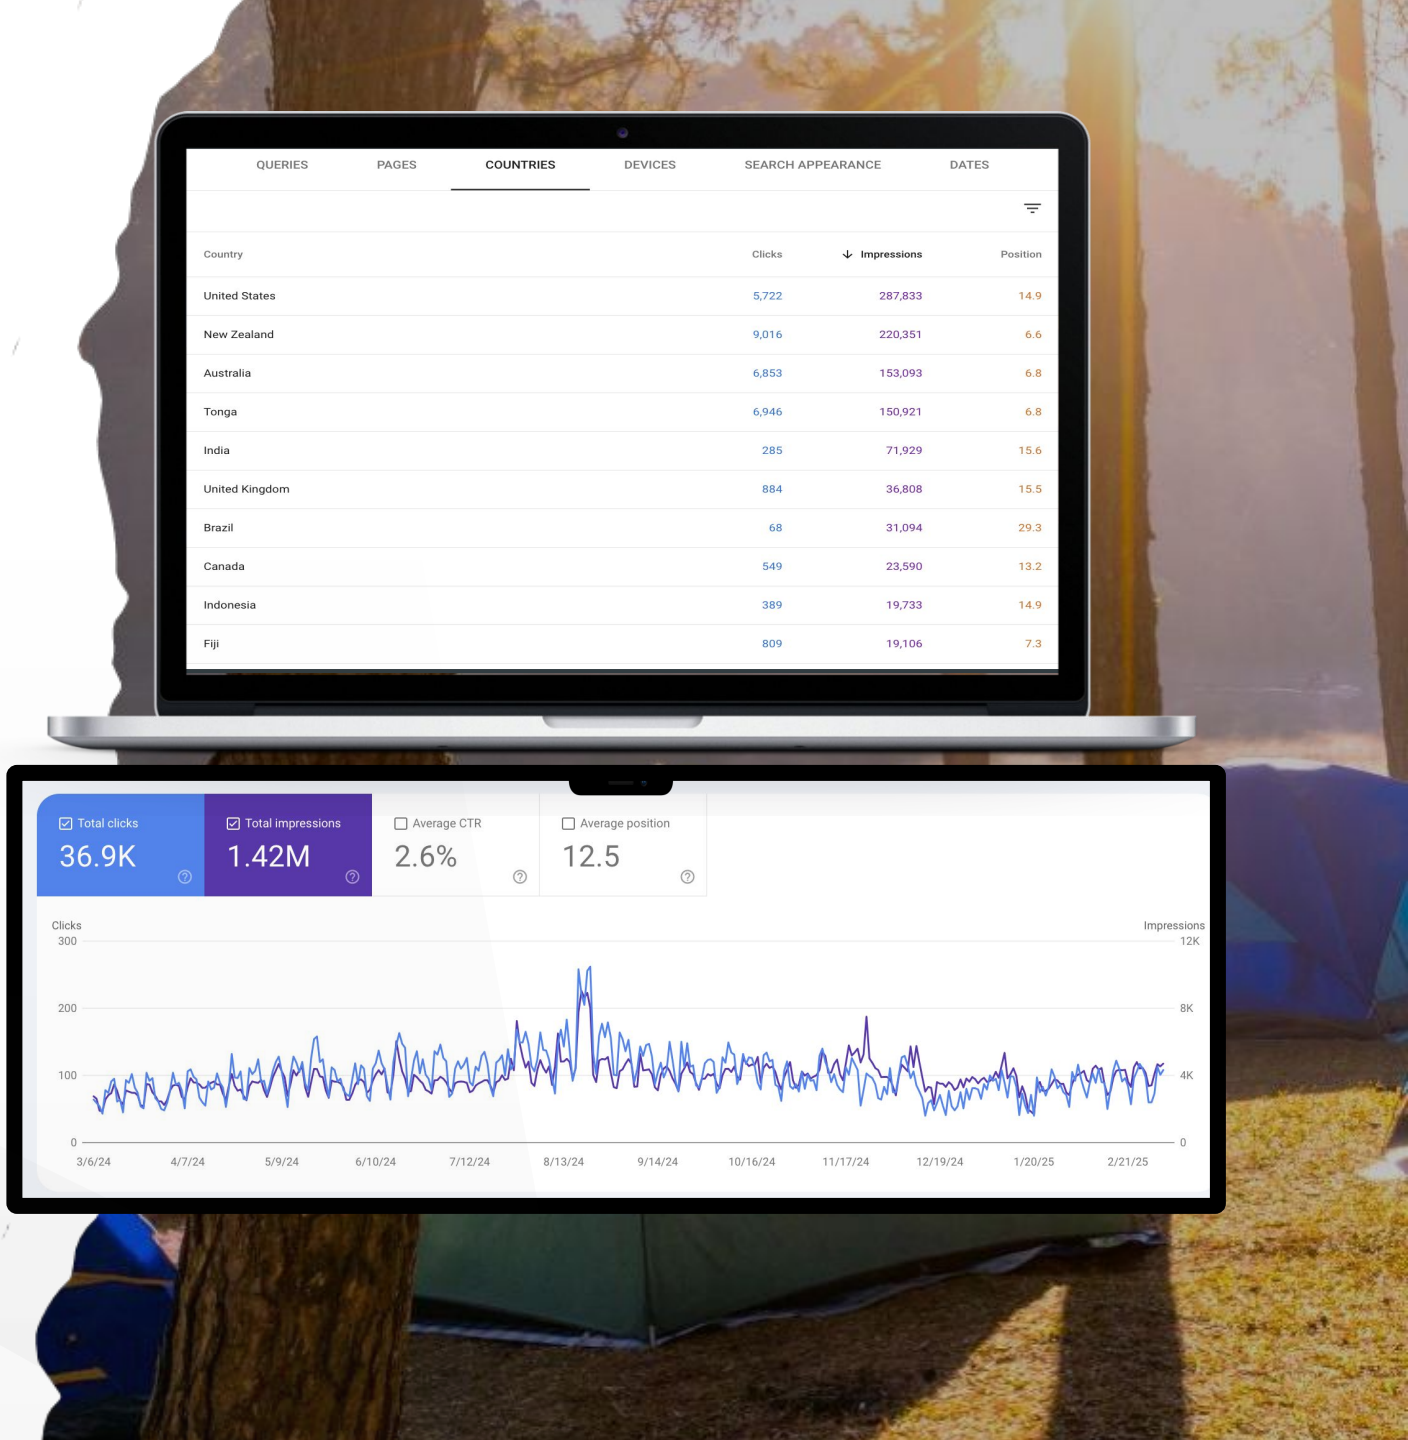

Country	Clicks	Impressions	Position
United States	5722	287833	14.9
New Zealand	9016	220351	6.6
Australia	6853	153093	6.8
Tonga	6946	150921	6.8
India	285	71929	15.6
United Kingdom	884	36808	15.5
Brazil	68	31094	29.3
Canada	549	23590	13.2
Indonesia	389	19733	14.9
Fiji	809	19106	7.3

Organic Search Opportunity

Relatively flat clicks and impressions over last year

Focus should be on high-impression countries (means many searches), so opportunity is in improving search position and getting from 10+ into single digits (the first page of search results)

Sentiment Analysis & Competitive Positioning

1

Regional Findings

Visitors generally express positive emotions about Tonga (average sentiment score 0.30-0.35), particularly regarding staff service and cleanliness

2

Island Findings - Overall

Tonga leads its competitors in overall accommodation sentiment, driven by exceptional staff service

3

Accommodation, Attractions & Restaurants

Accessibility is the lowest-rated aspect of attractions, indicating a significant barrier to visitor enjoyment

4

Visitor Segments

Solo travelers show lower satisfaction (particularly in service and transportation) Couples and business travelers are most satisfied with food and accommodations Families highly value location and activities but express significant dissatisfaction with transportation and accessibility

5

Specific Source Markets

New Zealand visitors value Tonga's natural environment most highly among all source markets
United Kingdom visitors strongly appreciate food quality have the most critical view of service quality
US visitors show the lowest value perception

Identify

Understanding Visitor Sentiment: A Deep Dive into TripAdvisor Reviews

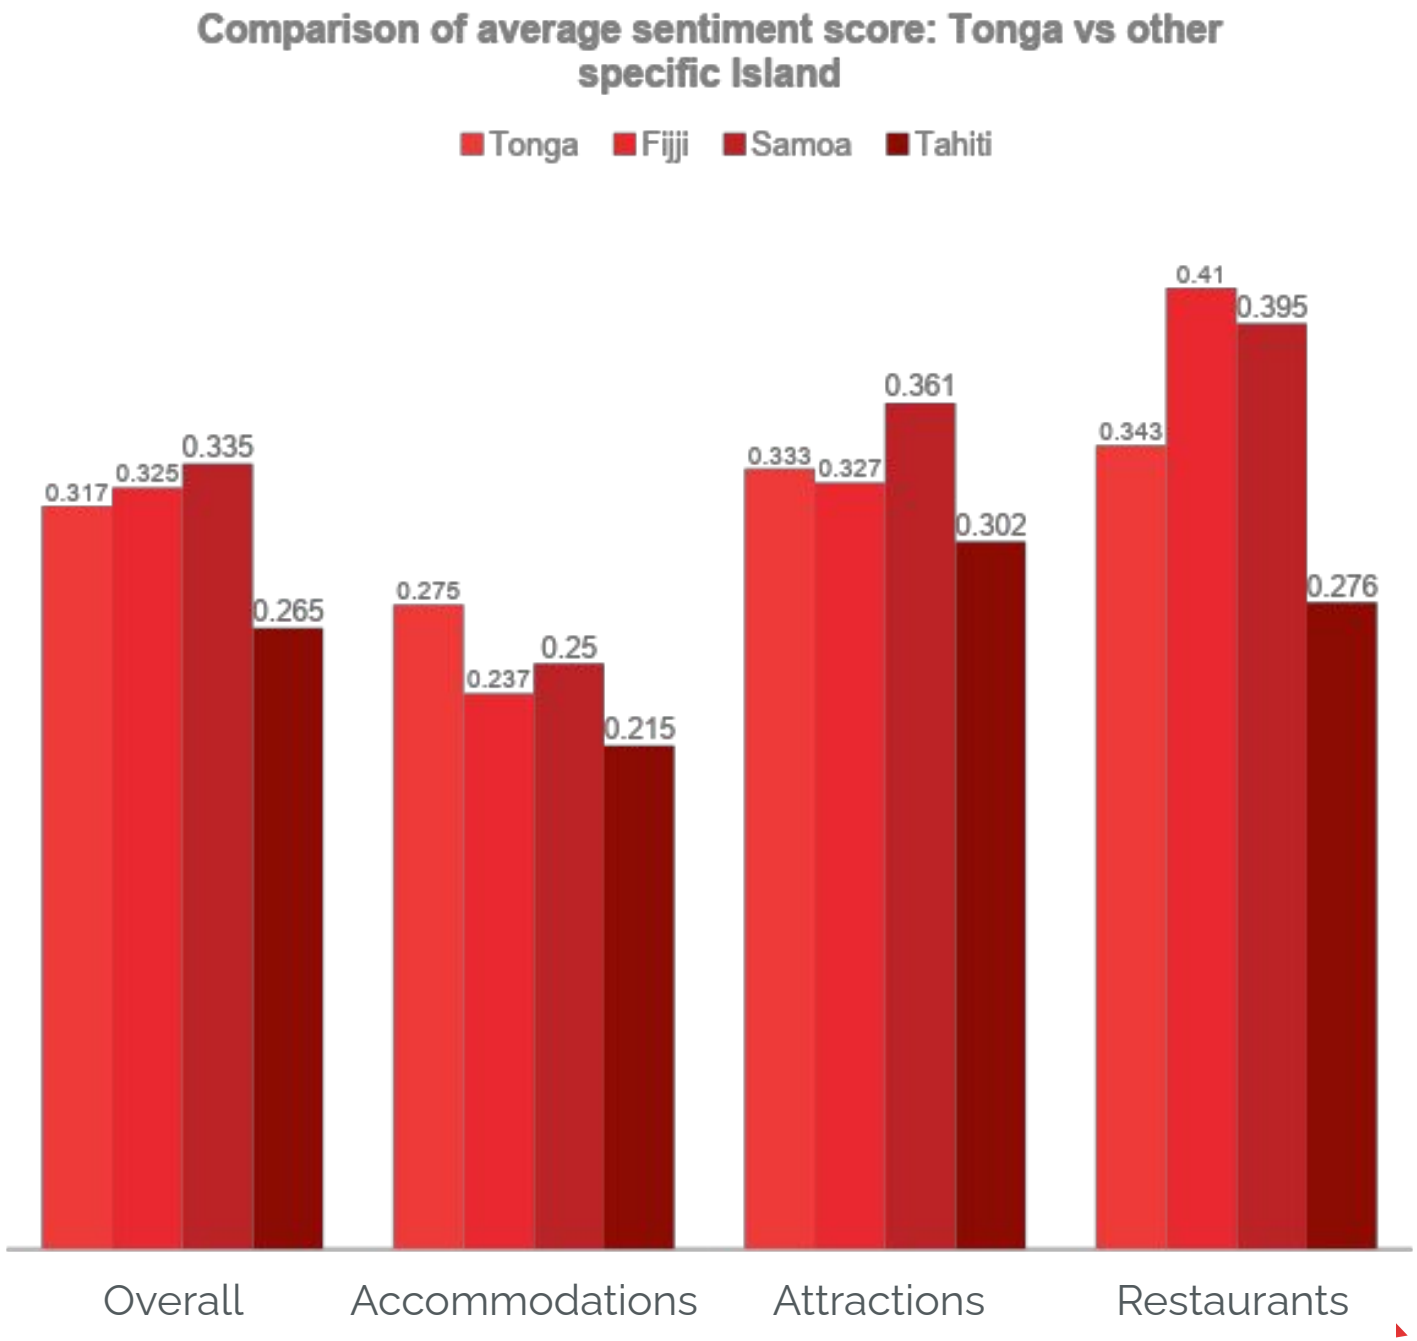

What is Sentiment Analysis? Analyzing the emotional tone in visitor reviews to understand how people feel about their experiences in Tonga.

Why is it valuable? Goes beyond simple ratings to reveal the why behind satisfaction and dissatisfaction.

Data Source: Based on analysis of over 8,000 TripAdvisor reviews in Tonga from 2020 onwards (and more in Tahiti, Samoa, and Fiji), covering accommodations, attractions, and restaurants

Regional Findings

- Tonga leads competitors in accommodation sentiment, driven by staff service
- However, there's room for improvement, particularly in restaurants and attraction accessibility

Regional Findings - Activity Sentiment

- Cultural Experiences: This is Tonga's weakest activity category (0.24), where Fiji (0.27) outperforms.
- Tours/Excursions: Samoa dominates this category with the highest score (0.33), while Tonga (0.27) performs adequately but has room for improvement.

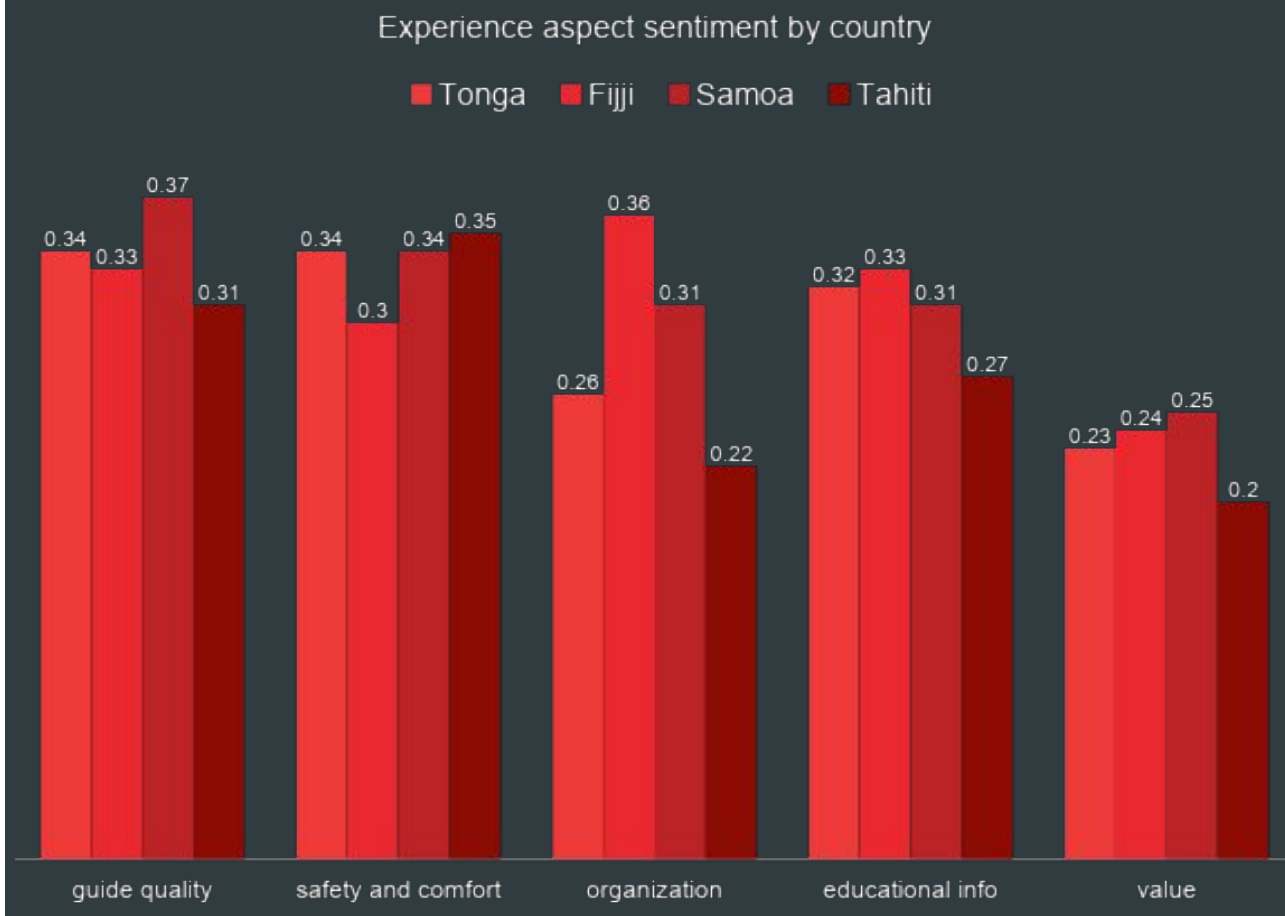

Regional Findings

Experience Aspects

Organization: This is Tonga's major weakness (0.26), significantly behind Fiji

Educational Information: Relatively balanced scores with Fiji leading (0.33) and Tonga competitive (0.32).

Value: All countries score low, with Tonga at the bottom (0.23), reinforcing the value perception challenge identified earlier

Number of Tripadvisor Reviews

Island Groups

Tonga Overall: 8,173 reviews

Tongatapu

- Accommodation: 1,855 reviews (40.5% of island total)
- Attractions: 1,427 reviews (31.2% of island total)
- Restaurants: 1,295 reviews (28.3% of island total)

Vava'u

- Accommodation: 1,175 reviews (50.8% of island total)
- Attractions: 728 reviews (31.4% of island total)
- Restaurants: 412 reviews (17.8% of island total)

Ha'apai

- Accommodation: 643 reviews (66.3% of island total)
- Attractions: 236 reviews (24.3% of island total)
- Restaurants: 91 reviews (9.4% of island total

'Eua

- Accommodation: 305 reviews (98.1% of island total)
- Attractions: 6 reviews (1.9% of island total)
- Restaurants: 0 reviews (0% of island total)

Island Findings - Overall

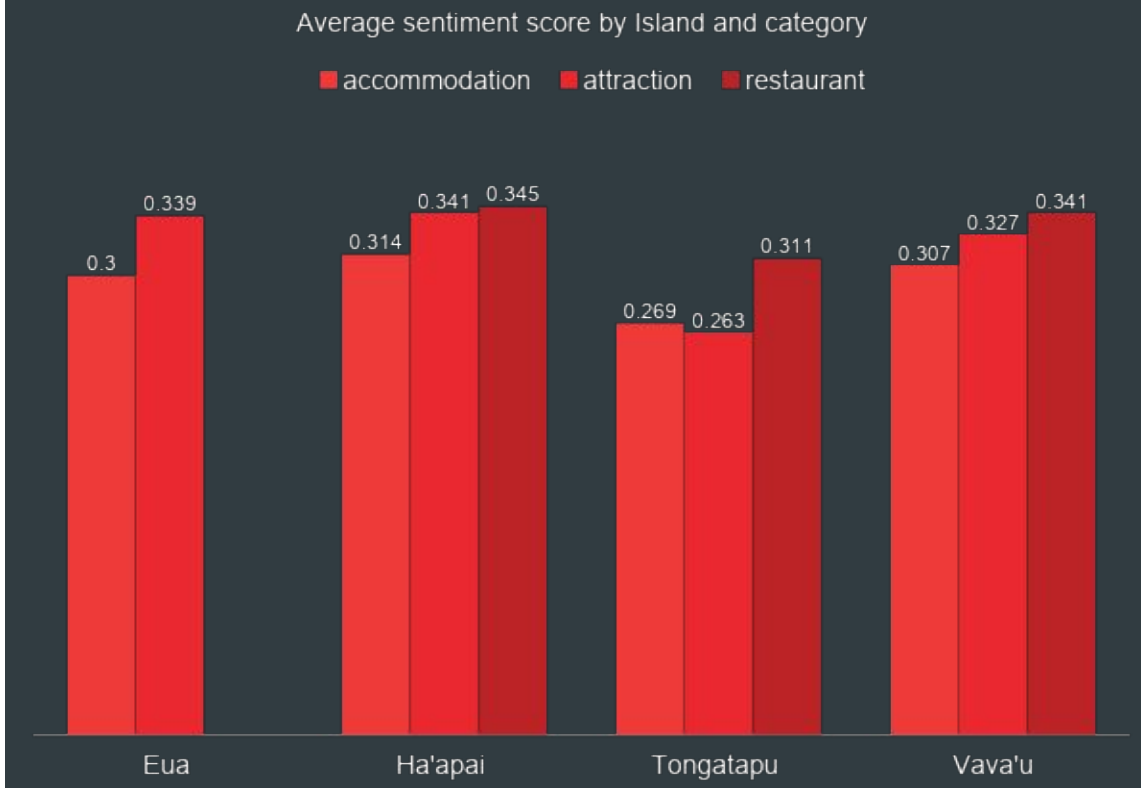

Experience Aspects

Ha'apai shows the strongest overall sentiment scores across all categories, with particularly high ratings in attractions and restaurants

Vava'u performs consistently well across all categories, with balanced scores

'Eua has lower accommodation scores compared to other islands.

Tongatapu shows the lowest overall sentiment scores, particularly in accommodation and attractions

Island Findings - Accommodation

'Eua
No standout high scores but consistent performance

Tongatapu

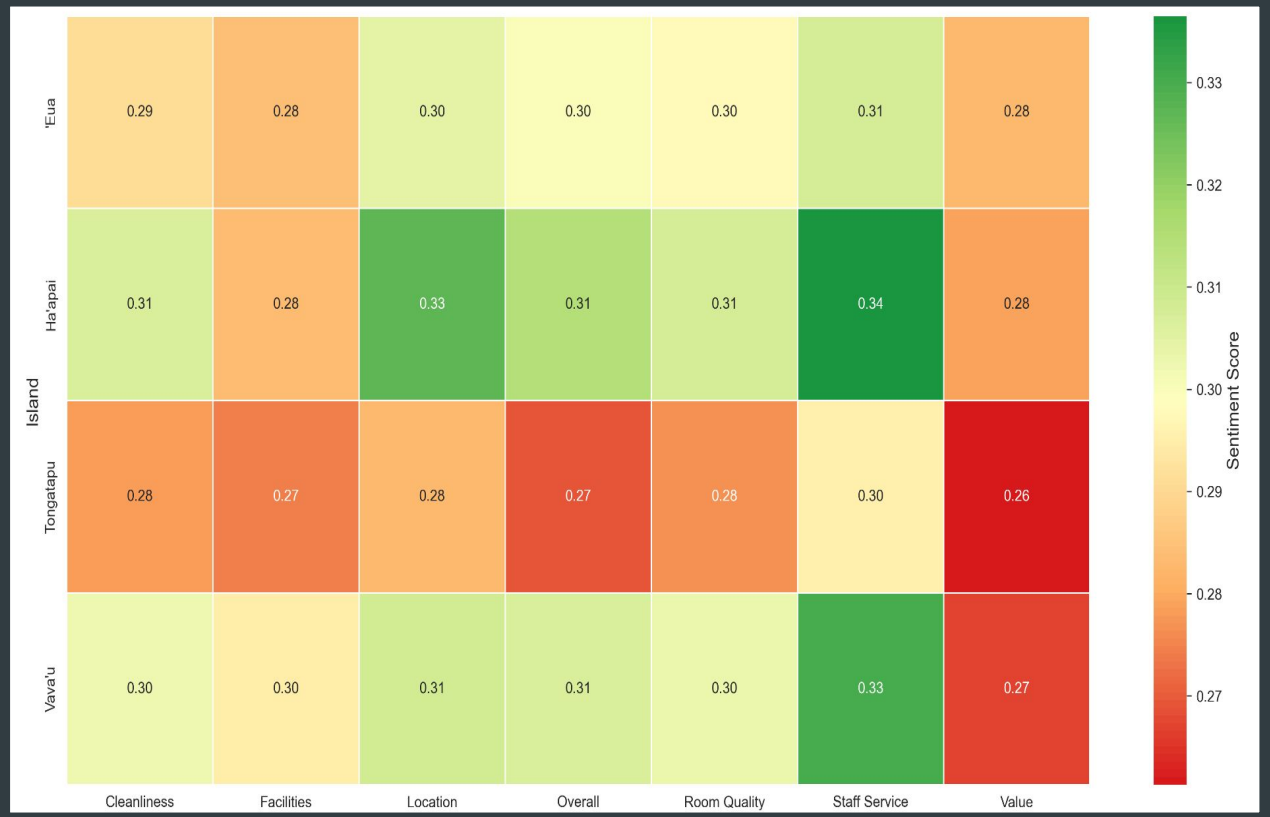

Consistently lower: Nearly all scores are lower than other islands

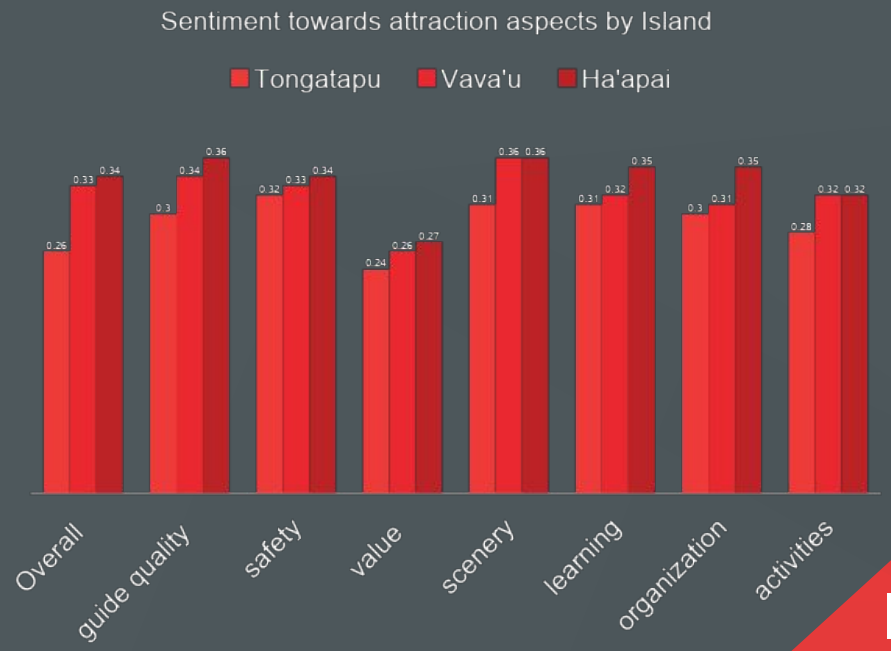

Critical concerns: Value (0.26) and both facilities and overall theme (0.27) are the lowest scores in the entire dataset

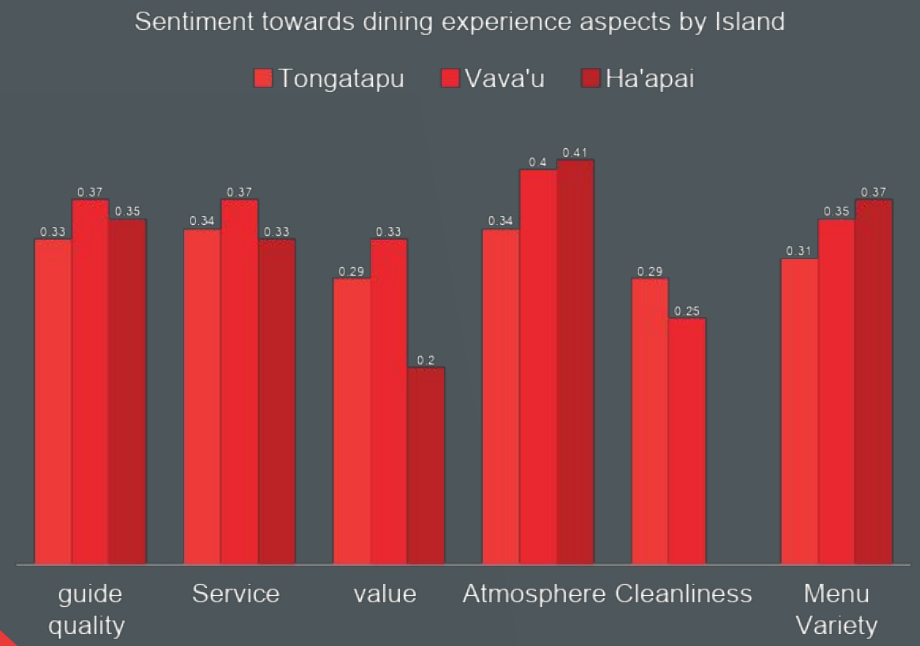

Bright spot: Staff service (0.30) is the only category where Tongatapu performs reasonably well

Ha'apai
- Strengths: Ha'apai excels in staff service (0.34) and location (0.33)
- Weaknesses: Facilities (0.28) and value (0.28) score significantly lower

Vava'u
- Strengths: Staff service (0.33) and consistent scores across location (0.31) and overall theme (0.31)
- Weakness: Value perception (0.27) is notably lower than other attributes

Island Findings - Attractions & Restaurants

Attractions

Ha'apai consistently outperforms other islands in attraction sentiment, particularly for guide quality and scenery

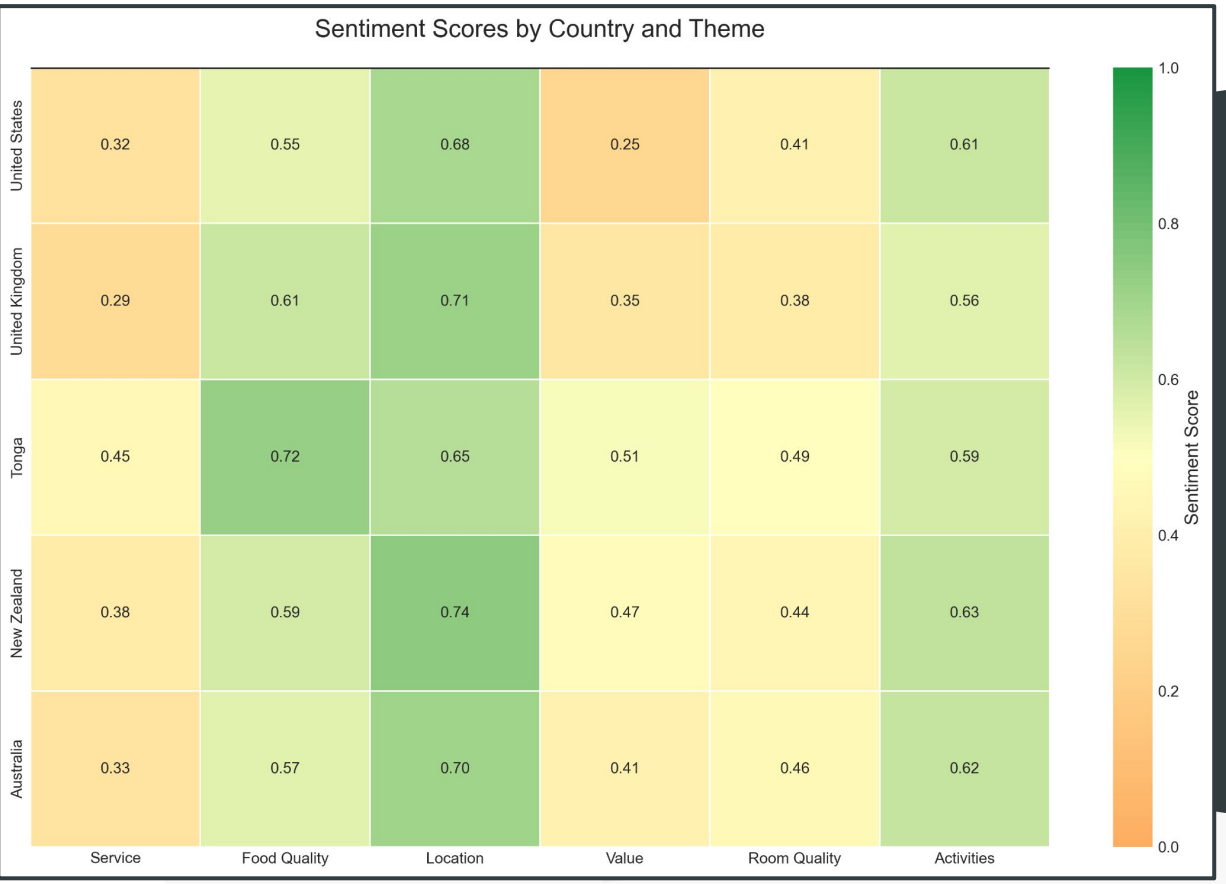

Accessibility is the lowest-rated aspect across all islands (0.19), representing a major barrier

Restaurants

Atmosphere is a strength, but local cuisine sentiment is a missed opportunity

Value perception is a consistent concern across all islands

Cleanliness is a critical issue, particularly in Vava'u

- United Kingdom visitors have the strongest preferences for food quality (0.61) and location (0.71), but give the lowest scores for service (0.29)
- United States visitors rate activities highly (0.61) but are less impressed with value (0.25)
- Tongan visitors give the most balanced ratings across categories, with relatively higher scores for value (0.51) compared to other nationalities
- Service is consistently rated lower across all countries (0.29-0.45), indicating a universal area for improvement

Country-Based Visitor Segments

Location is universally valued

Location scores highest across all countries (0.65-0.74), with New Zealand visitors particularly valuing Tonga's locations (0.74)

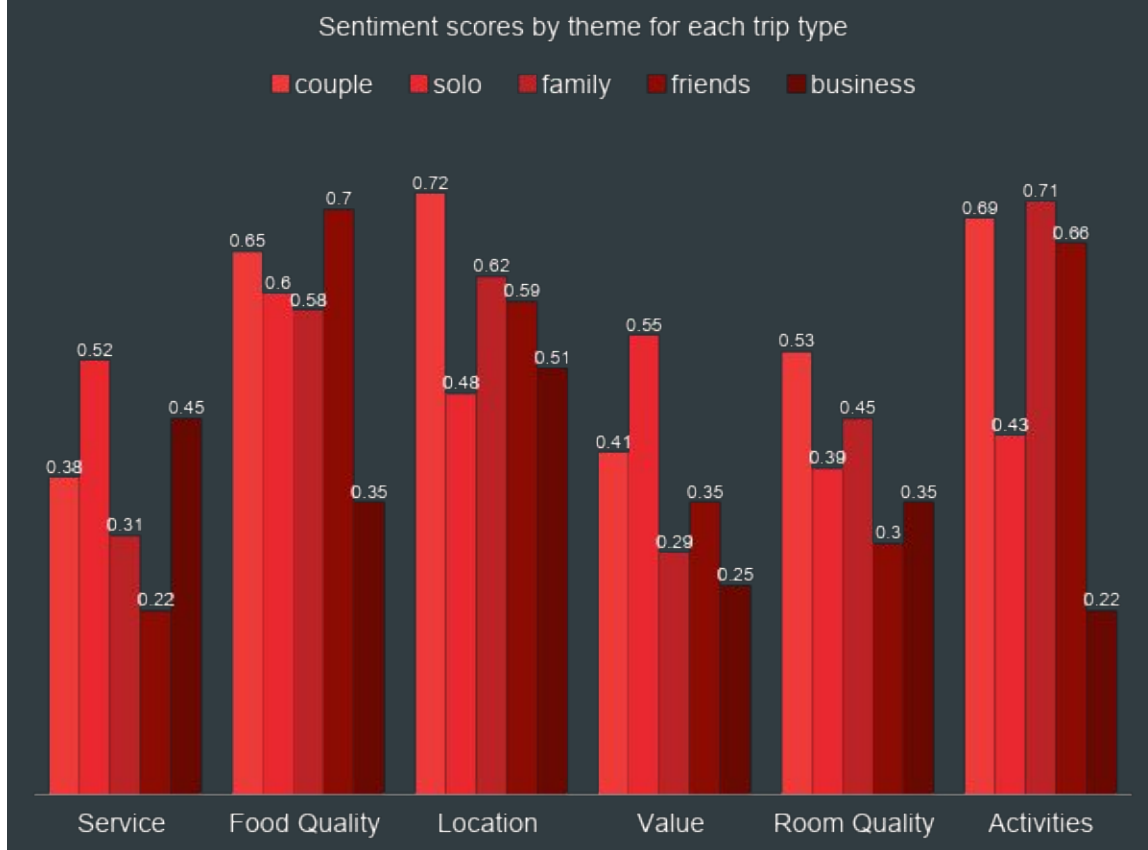

Traveler Type Segments

Solo travelers consistently give lower ratings across most categories, especially for service and transportation

Couples and business travelers rate food/beverage and accommodation highest

Families particularly value location and activities but are less satisfied with transportation.

Solo travelers and families appear most sensitive to value considerations

Travel Style: Family with two children (ages 10 and 13)

Occupation: Primary School Teacher

Description

Sarah is planning a family holiday to Tonga with her husband and two children.

She's looking for a destination that offers a mix of relaxation, cultural experiences, and adventure, but safety, convenience, and well-organized activities are top priorities.

Key Needs & Expectations

- Resorts or guest houses with amenities suitable for children.
- Activities that are appropriate for children of different ages.
- Opportunities for her children to learn about Tongan culture.
- A classic Pacific island experience.
- Easy access to up-to-date information about transportation, logistics, health and safety, and family-friendly options.
- Clear and upfront pricing for accommodations, activities, and food.
- Responsive and helpful support before, during, and after their trip.

Pain Points

- Finds the Tonga Tourism website slow, difficult to navigate, and lacking info tailored to families. (Data: Declining engagement rate and session duration for Australian visitors suggest usability issues.)
- Struggles to find detailed information about family-friendly accommodations, activities, and itineraries.
- Worried about health and safety issues, particularly for her children.
- Unsure about transportation options within Tonga and the best way to get around with children.
- Wants to ensure that the trip is worth the cost and provides good value for a family holiday.

Travel Motivation

"We want a family holiday that's both relaxing and enriching, with opportunities for our kids to learn about a different culture and experience nature."

MARK

US Bleisure (USA)

Age: 45

Origin: San Francisco, California, USA

Travel Style: Business + Leisure

Occupation: Tech Executive

1. Researching

Receive an invitation to a conference or meeting in Tonga. Briefly research the destination online, focusing on practical information (flights, accommodation, transportation).

2. Website Visit

Visit the official Tonga Tourism website. Find it difficult to navigate and find information relevant to business travelers.

3. Booking

Book flights and accommodation through a corporate travel agency or a third-party website.

4. Pre-Trip Planning

Struggle to find detailed information about transportation, business services, and meeting facilities in Tonga.

5. Experiencing

Arrive in Tonga. Experience frustration with slow internet access, limited transportation options, and the quality of accommodations. Find the conference/meeting facilities to be inadequate. Struggle to find high-quality dining options.

6. Sharing

Share their experiences online, highlighting the positive aspects (natural beauty, friendly people, cultural experiences) but also expressing concerns about value for money, accessibility.

Specific Source Markets

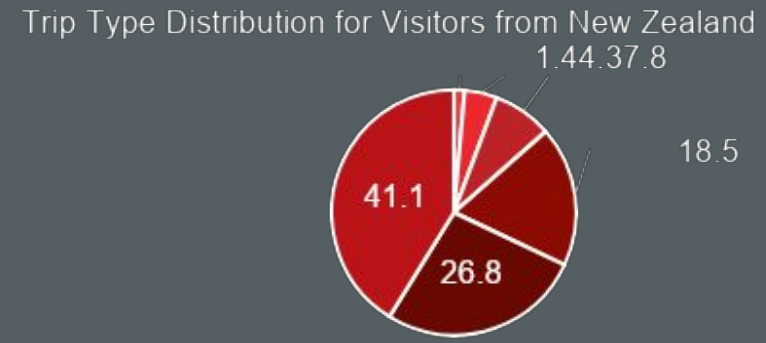

New Zealand visitors exhibit a positive sentiment towards Tonga, with a balanced appreciation for accommodations, attractions, and restaurants. They are the most frequent visitors and show the highest engagement.

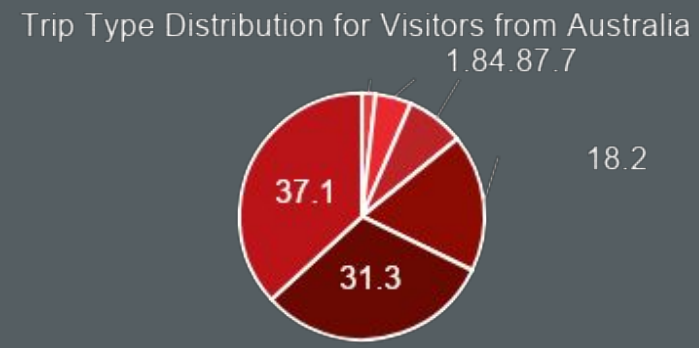

Australian visitors show a strong preference for attractions, particularly those related to nature and adventure. Restaurant sentiment is lower and accessibility is a recurring concern.

- Solo travel is more common among Australian visitors compared to other nationalities.

US visitors demonstrate a more polarized sentiment profile. While overall sentiment is positive, there's a difference between experiences for different trip types.

- Family and friend groups report very high satisfaction, while business travelers express much lower sentiment.
- Restaurant experiences are highly rated by US visitors, but accommodation sentiment is lower than other nationalities. "Value" is a recurring theme, with some mentions of high prices.

Tour Operators

Unlocking Partnerships: The Tour Operator Opportunity

Current Landscape

Tonga is underrepresented among major international tour operators.
Many do not offer dedicated Tonga packages, even while featuring competitors like Fiji, Samoa, and Tahiti.

Niche Focus

Existing Tonga offerings are primarily limited to niche adventure and ecotourism operators, focusing on activities like whale swimming, kayaking, and diving.

Missed Opportunities

Limited visibility among mainstream travelers.
Higher price points due to the niche focus and limited competition.
Underutilization of Tonga's broader cultural and natural assets.

Strategic Priorities

Engage with key international tour operators, particularly those specializing in adventure travel, cultural tourism, and eco-tourism
Create new, themed niche packages that highlight Tonga's unique strengths (whale conservation, cultural immersion, multi-island itineraries).
Work with local operators and airlines to develop more competitively priced packages and improve accessibility.
Foster long-term relationships with tour operators to increase Tonga's visibility and reach.

Travel Media

Amplifying Tonga's Story: Leveraging Travel Media

Current Coverage

Tonga receives significantly less media coverage than its regional competitors, particularly in mainstream travel publications.

Positive Tone

Existing coverage is generally positive, focusing on Tonga's authenticity, natural beauty, and unique experiences (especially whale swimming).

Key Themes

Authentic Polynesian culture.
Off-the-beaten-path adventure.
Pristine natural environment.
Unique wildlife encounters.

Strategic Priorities

Need to significantly increase media presence to raise awareness.
Expand coverage beyond the core themes (whales, culture, adventure) to include other aspects of Tonga (diving, culinary tourism, specific islands).
Focus on specific publications and journalists based on their audience and focus (adventure travel, luxury travel, cultural tourism, etc.).
Invest in high-quality images and videos to showcase Tonga's unique offerings.

SWOT - Digital Assessment

Internal Factors

Strengths

- Authentic Polynesian culture and well-regarded "Friendly Islands" brand
- Consistently high sentiment scores and ratings for staff service in accommodations, exceeding regional competitors
- High ratings and sentiment for cleanliness in accommodations
- Unique and legally protected whale swimming experiences
- Diverse natural beauty (beaches, reefs, lagoons, volcanic landscapes)
- Relatively high overall accommodation ratings (compared to competitors), particularly in Ha'apai and Vava'u
- Strong overall sentiment towards location, particularly the natural settings of accommodations
- Island variation offering strong ratings

Weaknesses

- Website issues, including slow loading times, poor mobile user experience, major accessibility barriers, extensive SEO deficiencies
- Two competing official websites, diluting SEO efforts, confusing potential visitors, and wasting resources
- Lack of in-depth, engaging, and targeted content, particularly up-to-date accommodation information
- Thematic experience content (cultural heritage, nature attractions, specific activities)
- Commercial-intent content (deals, packages, special offers)
- UK-specific travel information ("Getting to Tonga")
- Content tailored to specific visitor segment needs
- Declining engagement rate and session duration, indicating users are not finding the information they need or are encountering barriers to exploration
- Underrepresented among major international tour operators, limiting reach to broader markets
- Lower sentiment for local cuisine, value perception issues, and significant variations in quality across island groups
- A major concern across all islands and visitor segments, hindering the ability to experience Tonga's natural and cultural assets

SWOT - Digital Assessment

External Factors

Opportunities

- Leverage Tonga's cultural heritage and natural environment.
- Develop and target specific niche markets, such as adventure tourism, cultural immersion experiences, whale conservation
- Targeting specific, high-value visitor segments like friend groups (NZ, US, AU), families (UK, AU), couples (UK, and potentially US), addressing business travellers, especially the US market
- High sentiment for staff service provides a strong foundation for positive word-of-mouth marketing
- Collaborate with airlines, tour operators, and travel media to increase visibility and reach.
- Digital improvement

Threats

- Strong competition from other Pacific island destinations (Fiji, Samoa, Tahiti) with more established tourism infrastructure, marketing budgets, and online presence.
- Vulnerability to external shocks (economic downturns, pandemics, natural disasters)
- Limited air connectivity
- Increasingly severe weather events, sea-level rise, and coral bleaching pose significant long-term threats to Tonga's environment, infrastructure, and tourism industry
- Potential for negative perceptions related to cost, limited development (infrastructure), or accessibility
- Potential for negative impacts on the environment, local communities, and the visitor experience
